

Graduate Certificate of Business Administration

1. About the Graduate Certificate of Business Administration

The Graduate Certificate of Business Administration (GCBA) is designed to provide experienced business professionals without a formal undergraduate business qualification with flexible study options to master basic and critical business skills and concepts. GCBA has a practical and interdisciplinary focus with the themes of understanding the business environment, sustainable business market positioning, fundamentals of business finance and fundamentals of business communication. Graduates will develop knowledge of how to operate effectively in the changing business environments in which they work, or aspire to work, as leaders and managers.

The GCBA is a nested course which provides the foundation of business fundamental subjects that allow students to effectively pathway to the MBA.

Graduates of a Graduate Certificate develop cognitive and communication skills to improve their effectiveness as managers and leaders in organisational or social contexts. Graduates will also acquire research skills that will equip them to interpret and evaluate theoretical propositions and business-related data and maintain the currency of their knowledge as they develop their lifelong learning skills.

Graduate employment opportunities

The potential employment opportunities are varied and diverse with the Graduate Certificate of Business Administration qualification, equipping graduates with the skills required to take up managerial roles in government and business across various industries. The potential employment opportunities may include, but are not limited to the following roles:

- Account Manager
- Project Manager

Subjects

| SUBJECT DETAILS |
| SUBJECT TITLE, DESCRIPTOR |
| MKT600 Marketing 21st Century professionals who aspire to hold a leadership position must have a clear understanding and appreciation of the importance of marketing. This subject is designed to develop a comprehensive understanding of marketing theories and the practical application of marketing concepts and marketing strategies in various contexts including profit and not-for-profit organisations, including government. This subject equips students with marketing strategy formulation and the use of strategic marketing mix elements in developing and maintaining a market orientation and assessing organisational performance in relation to ethical and socially acceptable business practices. |
| FIN600 Financial Management This subject is focused on how to use accounting and financial information for decision-making purposes. It is designed for the leader/manager who will be using, rather than producing accounting and financial information. This subject also addresses the various types of financial decisions that leaders must make, and the strategies necessary to anticipate the alternatives, evaluate the advantages and disadvantages of each and recognise the tradeoffs inherent in each alternative. The objective of this subject is for students to learn how to apply accounting and finance theory and principles to the analysis of important business problems, further developing their skills at using numerical analysis and research to support a line of argument. |
| MGT501 Business Environment This subject introduces the student to the foundations of business. The focus of this subject is on providing fundamental concepts and context for students to enrich their mastery in subsequent studies while developing as a reflective practitioner. Students will examine the functional operations of business and the environments in which it operates. This may include analysing the economic, social, political, legal, technological and ethical influences on contemporary businesses. Students will also examine the viewpoints of internal and external stakeholders. |
| MGT502 Business Communications This subject introduces students to the concepts of business communications and transferrable academic skills. This subject presents an analysis of the types of communication processes, which occur in the internal and external business environment, including an examination of the theoretical underpinnings of communication in business. Emphasis is placed on writing skills, reports and presentations and on using technology to communicate. The subject introduces students to research skills, information literacy, critical analysis, writing and language techniques. The aims of this subject are to provide knowledge and skills needed for success in Higher Education, to help students manage their own success and to assist them in reaching their academic potential. |
